DAILY DEMOCRAT-FORUM

(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 3. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1912. No. 17.

NOT TO BOLT NOW

PROGRESSIVE PARTY TO BE FORMED LATED BY ROOSEVELT.

TAFT WINS EVERY ROUND

The Work is Slow and Monotonous, But Sure and Effective—Ready For Business.

Today will doubtless close the most memorable and, many strong men think, possibly the last national convention of that historical party. Taft will be named, not because even his friends want him, but because they control the convention and can't let loose. Governor Hadley is clearly the biggest man in this convention on either side, and his every appearance brings tumultuous applause. In order to lend respectability to their ticket and divert attention from the stolen nomination, the Taftites will make a herculean effort to force him into second place, but his friends here close to him claim that it will not be done, even if the governor has to break all history precedents by refusing to run, should he be named by the convention.

To use a favorite expression of the colonel, the Taft forces appear to have him "licked to a frazzle." Defeated before the national committee, his fight was made on the temporary chairman. Defeated here, the fight turned to the credentials committee. Here again the tide of battle turned against him. Next his lieutenants turned their attention to the final roll of the convention. With wonderful regularity and precision the contests, state by state, have failed, and after five days of fighting the convention is where it should have been on the morning of the second day—with a permanent roll of delegates.

The Roosevelt plan of procedure, as announced this morning, is to allow the Taft majority to go ahead with the convention while the Roosevelt followers sit mute. Mr. Roosevelt's name is not to be presented to the convention with his consent, but later a convention is to be called of progressives from both Republican and Democratic parties, and Teddy will appear as the Moses to lead the forces out of the wilderness. This plan may fail, but in it Teddy sees hope.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—Convention called to order at 10:45.

Convention seats Taft delegates from Washington, sustaining majority report of credentials committee.

After a wait of two hours the credentials committee reported the Virginia contests, and the majority report favoring Taft delegates was adopted.

At 2:30 o'clock the credentials committee was still wrangling over the report on Texas contests. Devine, Colorado, and McCormick, Illinois, nearly came to blows.

DR. FORD TO LEAVE

FIRST M. E. CHURCH MAY LOSE PRESENT PASTOR.

TO RAISE HALF A MILLION

The Great Task of Raising an Endowment Fund for School at Baldwin, Kan., to Be Undertaken.

From present appearances Maryville is on the vergs of losing one of the best ministers the city has had, and the First Methodist Episcopal church its much loved pastor, Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford.

He is being strongly urged by the directorate of Baker university at Baldwin, Kan., to assist in the campaign that will soon be inaugurated for an endowment fund of a half million dollars.

At the close of the church service Sunday morning Dr. Ford will meet his official board and lay the matter before them clearly, and will give his answer to Baker university within a few days.

His work with the Maryville church has been exceedingly pleasant, and he returns in full measure the feeling of confidence and love that is accorded to him by his brethren, both in and out of the church. If he goes it will be only in answer to an urgent call to what he conceives to be the larger opportunity to conserve the best interests of the church.

Baker university is launching a campaign for the raising of an endowment fund of one-half million dollars. This fund must be raised largely in the Kansas and South Kansas conferences.

The executive committee of the board of trustees called Dr. Ford over the long distance telephone Tuesday morning and told him that they had unanimously agreed upon him as the man to manage this campaign in the Kansas conference, and that they were very anxious to have him accept the place, and would be glad to have him come to Kansas City immediately to meet them.

This was a complete surprise to Dr. Ford, and he replied that it was out of the question for him to either give them an answer then, or to leave for Kansas City that morning.

Later in the day Dr. Mason, the president of Baker university, called him again and said that the members of the committee would remain in Kansas City and have another session after 9 o'clock if he would come down on the evening train. This he agreed to do.

He met them at the Baltimore hotel, where they talked over the whole situation, and he was urged to accept the place upon the plea that it was the call of the church to the biggest opportunity and the most gigantic task that had ever been undertaken for Baker university and the church in its patronizing territory, and that he, because of his special fitness and experience, and his extensive acquaintance, not only in the Kansas conference, but throughout the church, was the proper and logical man to lead in this great campaign.

Dr. Ford agreed to give the matter serious and prayerful consideration, and to give them a definite answer by the 26th of June. They want him to begin the work the first of July. The salary was fixed at $2,500 and all expenses. If he goes he will move his family to Baldwin, Kan., the seat of Baker university.

HOPKINS BROTHERHOOD.

Men's Organization of Presbyterian Church Now Numbers Sixty-Three.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church of Hopkins held their regular meeting at the church Friday night.

After the opening of the meeting two fine violin solos were given by Albert Aiken, with piano accompaniment by Professor Dee Jackson.

The business of the meeting consisted of the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the appointing of committees, one committee of importance being to secure a building for the purpose of a gymnasium, one room of this building to be set aside as a rest room for ladies.

The brotherhood membership now numbers sixty-three men, and is growing right along. In the words of Dr. Walton, who is pastor of the church, and at the head of the movement, "We mean business."

UP IN A BALLOON

THAT'S WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT TO SEE AT CELEBRATION.

2 ASCENSIONS IN A DAY

Fourth of July to Be Observed With Free Barbecue, Parades, Oratory, Music and Other Attractions.

The committee in charge of the attractions for the Fourth of July celebration have arranged for an array of talent and attractions that will show the crowd a grand time throughout the entire day.

The latest acquisition to the program is a balloon ascension. Mark Turner went to Omaha Friday for the express purpose of finding a man to do the flying act, and Mark found one, too. But he didn't get to the Nebraska town any too soon, for he got the last balloon from the J. Waldorf Hall Balloon company that was obtainable. The company has already contracted for six ascensions on the Fourth. The majority of us know but little concerning the ballon business, but Mr. Turner got it pretty straight that Mr. Hall has the soaring business down to a fine point, having had twelve years experience.

There will be two ascensions, one in the afternoon and the other at night. The night performance will be the feature one, as the balloon will be illuminated and fireworks will be set off from it while in mid-air.

The music for the day will be furnished by the Missouri Ladies' Military band and the Northwest Normal Male quartet. Although only a new organization, the Ladies' band is fast becoming a public favorite. The quartet never fails to please their hearers.

Of course, there will be a greased pole climbing contest and a "well greased pig"—no independence celebration would be complete without them.

At noon comes the eats, and um! yum! such eats, and free, too. There will be pork, potatoes, pickles and bread and all the trimmin's. Tanks of ice water, with enough of the dampness to water Alexander's army, will be located at convenient places in the court house yard.

Company F, Fourth regiment, Missouri National Guards, with Captain Ezra Phipps in command, will execute numerous military maneuvers, and the Woodmen of the World drill team will do some stunts.

Hon Earl Wiles of this city and Hon. B. Raleigh Martin of St. Joseph and several other orators of considerable repute will hand out the bouquets in the form of rousing addresses suitable for the occasion.

A base ball game between two good teams will be played in the afternoon. The Order of Owls and the W. O. W. are making elaborate preparations for the closing of the day's proceedings with a monster torch light parade through the principal streets of the city.

DR. CURTIS HERE FOR LECTURES.

Playground Specialist Will Talk at Normal This Afternoon—Illustrated Lecture Tonight.

Dr. Henry Curtis, secretary of the National Association of Playground Activities, arrived in this city Saturday from Warrensburg, where he lectured and gave demonstrations of his work.

Dr. Curtis gave a lecture and demonstration at the Normal at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Normal auditorium, Dr. Curtis will give an illustrated lecture on "The Playground Movement and Its Significance." There will be no charge for admission, and everybody is urged to attend.

From here Dr. Curtis will go to Kirksville, where he will lecture under the auspices of the state normal of that city.

Conception Church Dedication.

Dr. W. B. Christie went to Conception Saturday, where he will preside at the dedicatory services of the new M. E. church, on Sunday at 11 o'clock. There will be an all-day session and a basket dinner will be served at 12 o'clock, so that all may be present on time for the afternoon program.

Was a Brilliant Reception.

A company of Normal students and their friends, numbering almost five hundred people, attended the reception tendered the students by the faculty of the school on the lawn of President and Mrs. Taylor's home last evening. A more brilliant affair of its kind has never been given in Maryville. After being received by the members of the faculty, who were stationed at intervals along the east entrance walk, the guests gathered in groups beneath the trees, upon which were hung Japanese lanterns which cast an indistinct gleam on the assemblage. Punch, ice cream and wafers were served from beautifully arranged booths beneath the foliage of the trees. Miss Alma Nash's orchestra furnished most pleasing music throughout the evening.

Miss Mary Bellows Married.

Maryville friends received word Friday of a marriage that would take place in Seattle, Wash., at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, June 22, that will be of special interest to a large circle of the bride's friends and acquaintances in Maryville. It was that of Miss Mary Bellows to Mr. Johnson, an attorney of Seattle. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the First M. E. church of Seattle, by the pastor of the church, in the presence of the following relatives. Mrs. Frank Bellows and Miss Clara Bellows of Maryville, mother and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. James Shaack of Seattle, Mrs. Shaack being a sister of the bride, and Ex-Mayor Billing of Seattle, a brother of Mrs. Frank Bellows. The bride has been teaching in the public schools of Seattle for several years, and is a splendidly accomplished young woman.

Hudelson-Boyd Wedding.

A quiet wedding occurred Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. C. Halley, 130 South Fillmore street, when Miss Lauretta Hudelson was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Boyd, a well known young newspaper man and publisher of Kensington, Kan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford of the First M. E. church, and was witnessed by the bride's sister, Miss Ethel Hudelson, and Mrs. Halley's family. The bride was prettily attired in white satin messaline, over which white chiffon was draped, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served in pink and white, the table decorations consisting of pink and white roses and sweet peas. The bride's going-away suit was of tan serge, with shoes and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd left Saturday evening for Lincoln, Neb., to spend their honeymoon, visiting at the homes of Mr. Boyd's brothers, James and Warren Boyd. They will be at home after July 1 at Kensington, Kan., where Mr. Boyd is editor and proprietor of the Kensington Mirror, and has a house all ready for his bride. Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hudelson of Armour, S. D., who until five years ago lived near Maryville. She has been employed by Mrs. W. J. Staples in her millinery, in St. Joseph and other places, since her parents left for Dakota, and has proven successful in her work. The best wishes of many friends go with her to her new home.

Mrs. Ringgold Hostess.

The Dew Drop Inn club was royally entertained by the Intellectual club at the home of Mrs. Rufus Ringgold, one-half mile north of Clyde school house, Thursday afternoon, June 20. The visiting ladies were welcomed by Mrs. Blackney in a reading beautifully rendered. There was instrumental music by Miss Lois Sargent of Hopkins; reading by Mrs. Earl Dowling and Mrs. Florea, and a poetical piece by Mrs. Anderson, reciting the woes of a club woman's husband. Mrs. Blackney gave a mandolin solo. "The Star of the East" was sung by Miss Jennie Ringgold and Mrs. Rufus Ringgold.

THEY'RE ALL TIED FOR THE LEAD

Standing of the Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pr.ct
Giants	2	2	.500
Athletics	2	2	.500
Pirates	2	2	.500
Cubs	2	2	.500

They're all tied for the lead and they're all tied for the basement in the Normal base ball league as a result of the Bruins burying the Giants in Friday night's game by a count of 17 to 1. Shylock Wilson heaved the pill for the Cubs and a fine job of heaving he did, too. He let the enemy down with two small sized bingles, neither of which figured in the scoring of the Giants' lone tally. The Jew biffed the ball some also. In the initial round he leaned on one of Pitcher Moore's slants for a circuit of the sacks, counting Bright ahead of him.

Prof. Moore, who was on the mound for the vanquished was touched up for fourteen safeties, including two home runs and five doubles. The coach was working hard the first two rounds, but his teammates played a poor fielding game behind him, so after the enemy had gotten a safe lead he began tossing them over, giving the Cublets an excellent opportunity to fatten their batting averages.

Now that all four teams are tied up in their average there is little to choose between them, and the fact that they are so evenly matched will, of course, make the league all the more successful from the interest standpoint.

At the close of yesterday's game Mr. A. J. Luppold, representing "The Toggery Shop," announced that the firm would present a handsome championship pennant to the team winning the largest percentage of games.

On Visit to Daughter.

Mrs. N. A. Kavanaugh went to Bolckow Friday evening for a two months' visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. I. Dunn. Mrs. Kavanaugh, who has been an invalid for the past two years, was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Frank, and Mr. Frank. Mrs. Kavanaugh has recovered much of her strength in the past few months, and would be in fairly good health for one of her years if she had not been crippled by her fall of a year and a half ago, when she suffered the breaking of one of her hips, while she was with her daughter's family in Corpus Christi, Texas. She has to be taken about in an invalid's chair.

Firecrackers Out of Order.

You chaps that have laid in your supply of firecrackers for the Fourth and have been trying one or two just to see if they are good "poppers" had better recall that there is a city ordinance prohibiting the use of such explosives before or after the Fourth, unless, of course, the independence anniversary should happen to fall on the Sabbath day.

The ordinance against discharging blank cartridges, dynamite canes and other explosives of the kind and the firing of firecrackers more than three inches in length is still in force.

The revival services that have been in progress at the M. E. church, South, in Guilford for the past two weeks will close next Sunday night. Guests From Springfield.

Miss Ruth Matter, who has been visiting in Springfield, Mo., the past five weeks, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wray, formerly of Maryville, as the guest of Miss Helen Wray, returned home Friday night. She was accompanied by Miss Wray and Miss Elizabeth Reed, also of Springfield, who will be her guest the coming week. Miss Wray is deputy clerk of the Springfield division of the state court of appeals, while Miss Reed is deputy circuit clerk of Greene county. Miss Matter made quite a favorable impresion with the young society folk of Springfield, and her stay was almost a constant round of social affairs on her account. Since her departure from Springfield was announced one or two admirers have been inquiring the distance and train connections to Maryville and looking at the calendar to figure how long it will be until their vacation time. Miss Matter and her guests were met at the train Friday night by a large crowd of friends who accompanied them to her home and spent the evening.

Home Health Club

By DR. DAVID H. REEDER, LaPorte, Ind.

Imaginary diseases—Many a physician has borne testimony that when he was a student at the medical college that he had all the diseases that he read about in the medical books. He recognized the symptoms in himself, every time he felt a "little under the weather."

This sort of thing is not confined to medical students. Every physician has had persons to come to him with an imaginary affliction in which the victim was certain he had it, bad. The doctor generally cures that patient with what is termed a "placebo"—an inert, pretended medicine, given to satisfy a patient; to placate him, so to speak. Both words are from the same root. A placebo is generally a bread pill, or a little water, colored with some kind of innocent dye.

Of these imaginary diseases "heart disease" is the most common. The stomach is overloaded, or in some way inflated, mostly by gases, which conditions have the effect of crowding the diaphragm up into the heart's region, thereby interfering, somewhat with that organ's action. This, however, does not indicate any organic trouble with this delicate though powerful part of the human system.

Frequently the same effect as that mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, is caused by nervous sympathy with the stomach, brought about by acute indigestion, of great or less degree. In any degree it is distressing and may be avoided by care. For instance, one cup of coffee may, at times, be taken with comparative safety, when two cups would have a decided toxic effect. But coffee is, in any way that it can be taken, highly deleterious to a delicate stomach.

There is, within our knowledge, a veteran ex-soldier of the civil war who got the habit, necessarily, during the time of his service, or, unavoidably, to be more exact, of drinking coffee in large quantities, without cream or milk. The latter was unobtainable, and all soldiers drank very much coffee. It was furnished to the army as a staple ration, and the soldiers could drink it with impunity—and without cream—because of their youth and vigor, and strenuous outdoor life, inured to exposure and all phases of weather.

This veteran, who is, of course, a man in the neighborhood of 70 years, though generally strong and hearty, has been suffering from heart disease—he thinks—because he has kept up his army coffee habit. But he had not thought anything about that. He is not, however, living the same sort of strenuous life that he did as a soldier, and instead of having heart disease he simply has "coffee disease"—or did have, until the Home Health club told him a few things. He now says: "Since I let up on coffee the heart disease has let up on me."

Many persons read patent medicine circulars, and other printed stuff of that character, in which all the ills that escaped from Pandora's box are described, as to symptoms, and some folks, if they have any sort of "stitch" anywhere in the system, are at once led to the belief that one or more of the many afflictions so glaringly, and so ridiculously, portrayed there, are just what is ailing them. They get some of this cure-all truck, and then if they escape with some real affliction it is a miracle.

The fact is that fleeting "symptoms" are generally indicative of nothing beyond the fact that one of the strings in your harp of life may be accidentally touched, for an instant, at the wrong place, and there is a bit of discord. Tune up and go on. Forget it. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred you will be all right in the morning. When there is really something the matter that should be looked after by the doctor there will be no doubt about it. Or if you have a cold, or some other trouble of a light nature, that gives you an ache or pain, here or there, give yourself a rest and a homely treatment that you will always find in the Home Health club's books, and your apprehensions will generally take sudden flight.

Dear Doctor: I would like you to tell me what to do for our little boy, 22 months old, who has a navel rupture. It is about the size of a shelled hickory nut when he cries. He is a strong active baby, weighs 35 pounds, and on the move all the time, except when he is asleep. I kept a band on him, with a piece of rounded lead over the rupture, for a long time. Now I keep a rubber or elastic band on him all the time. It is difficult to keep anything in the right place. He has been this way ever since he was two weeks old. Is there any cure? Can it be cured by an operation? I can hear the water gurgle in it when it goes back and forth. I have been using an egg ointment every night, but nothing I have done does any good. I am troubled about it. MRS. E. L. S.

There is no question but what a skillful surgical operation would cure the rupture, but the danger lies in the anesthetic and the shock. No human being can tell with certainty what the after-effects will be. In ninety-five cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected by a properly fitted truss, and if it is properly fitted there will be no difficulty in keeping it in place.

Rubber bands are not advisable as they interfere with the circulation and are uncomfortable, while a properly fitted truss will not be noticed after a few days. A complete cure is frequently brought about by a good truss in a few weeks.

The New Homestead Law.

The liberality of our government in dealing with those who want to establish homes upon the public land is again shown by the new homestead act passed on June 6th and signed by the president. Under this law entrymen can make proof in three years by showing an actual residence of seven months each year; thus an entryman can hereafter secure patent to his land by twenty-one months residence during three years time instead of the sixty months continued residence heretofore required.

The new law permits those who have already lived upon their claims three years an opportunity to offer proof now and secure patent to their homesteads.

STILL SEATING TAFT DELEGATES

Convention Takes Up Contests Piecemeal From Many States.

Case Was Bitterly Fought But President Won by Narrow Margin—Texas and Washington Cases Still Remain.

Chicago, June 22.—The Taft forces in the Republican national convention further demonstrated their control of that body. The convention took up piecemeal the contests from many states, and in each instance the Taft delegates were declared entitled to their seats by majorities ranging from a high water Taft vote of 605 to 464 to a narrow margin of 542 to 529.

The latter vote was in the California case, in which the convention rules for selection of delegates by congressional districts came into conflict with the state primary law providing for a state wide vote on all delegates. Through this technicality the Taft forces claimed the two delegates from the fourth district. The case was bitterly fought and the voting was followed with the greatest interest, especially when it was seen that the Taft people were losing many of the delegates that had been with them in other contests.

When adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock in the morning, the Texas and Washington contests cases still remained to be dealt with, and there was likelihood of more bitterness between the opposing forces.

Good Humor at Last.

After the California case had been disposed of, however, the delegates seemed to be in much better humor. There was much fun and merriment during the late afternoon as the minor contests were pushed through without serious opposition from the Roosevelt people. There were many humorous allusions to the "steam roller" and frequent choruses of "choo, choo."

The convention is about to enter its fifth day and still is proceeding under temporary organization, a condition unprecedented in the history of the party. The leaders are going at their task in earnest and although many doubt their ability to do so, are going to try to get through with the nominations and everything else in time to adjourn early Sunday morning.

Hours of Bitter Debate.

The feeling of hatred rose to its height during Francis J. Heney's speech. The change to calm was wonderful when Gov. Johnson came forward and gave a clear-cut statement of the California situation. The evidence he presented was damning, but the bull baiting tactics of Heney were absent.

Gov. Hadley announced it had been intended that Gov. Johnson and Heney were to present argument for the minority but that Johnson was unavoidably detained and that Heney would open the argument.

Heney was furious, but retained his self control and began argument by declaring that the chief question involved was the right of a sovereign state to decide how its election should be conducted.

Out of Railroad Misrule.

Heney then sketched the California primary law and showed that it was passed especially to aid in securing a popular expression of the will of the people of the state on those questions.

Sereno Payne replied to Heney. The author of the tariff law said the two Taft delegates did not sit with the California delegation because the chairman of that delegation would not give them the seats to which they were entitled. His declaration that the Taft delegates had been seated by the supreme law of national Republicanism was greeted with a prolonged chorus of hisses, groans and boos.

In all the roll calls when California has been reached Gov. Johnson has insisted on reporting the state's entire 26 votes for the progressive side. The clerk merely announces it as 24 votes and calls the names of the two Taft delegates, who always vote the other way. It has been noticeable that their votes have come, not from the California delegation on the floor, but from the platform.

At 2:45 the report on the Arizona contests had been presented, seating the Taft delegates.

Sullivan of Ohio presented minority views. The same parliamentary tactics that marked the Alabama cases were followed. Sullivan moved the adoption of the minority report and Watson moved that it be tabled. A roll call was demanded. On it Idaho and Wisconsin switched back to the Roosevelt column, which they had deserted in the Alabama coses.

The minority report was tabled, 564 to 497. A roll call was not demanded when the motion to adopt the majority report was put and carried.

A viva voce vote was adopted on a motion by Watson to table Hadley's motion to substitute the minority for the majority report on the fifth Arkansas district. Another viva voce vote

TO BE FIGHT ON CHAIRMANSHIP

Clark's Refusal to Participate in Dispute Angers Wilson and Gaynor Men—Faint Hope for Peace.

Baltimore, June 22.—No denial that the leaders of the movement for Speaker Clark's nomination had joined with the Parker forces was forthcoming at a late hour and it was generally accepted as a fact. That alliance, it was reported, would result in New York's 90 votes being cast for Clark for the nomination.

As was expected, Clark has refused to take any part in the temporary chairmanship fight. This action, or rather non-action, of Clark has angered the Wilson and Gaynor progressives. They say that Clark has never been enough of a progressive to hurt and that his refusal openly to declare against Parker stamps him a reactionary.

Clark's Silence Annoying.

Wilson's friends grew quite personal over Clark's "pussy footing," as they expressed it, saying that Clark is of the politician type that would sacrifice any progressive principle to gain an advantage of his ambition for the nomination.

It now seems certain that the first act of the Democratic convention, which convenes here next Tuesday noon, will be practically identical with the opening scenes of the Republican gathering at Chicago last Tuesday. The Republicans started off with a fight over the temporary chairmanship. The Democrats most probably will do the same.

The followers of Wilson and Gaynor are calling attention vigorously to the news from Chicago that Roosevelt probably will head a new party. They say that the Democrats must—with "must" in italics—nominate an out and out progressive and not a man like Champ Clark, Harmon or Underwood.

William J. Bryan's telegraphic note to five candidates for the presidential nomination—Speaker Clark, Gov. Wilson, Gov. Foss, Gov. Baldwin and Mayor Gaynor—asking them to join him in opposition to the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman, dissipated the faint hope of some of the leaders here that a fight at the opening of the convention might still be avoided. The national committeemen are eagerly awaiting to hear what the replies of the five candidates would be to the Bryan inquiry before making further moves.

Predict Bryan's Defeat.

National committeemen standing by Parker openly declared that Bryan would be defeated in the national committee, even though he accepted a proxy from some committeeman and appeared in opposition to Judge Parker. In attempting to poll the national committee as to how it will probably stand in voting for or against Parker, the progressives admit that they are at sea, because they do not know just how to place the Clark members of the committee. One estimate is made that the committee will be a tie, while another estimate from the same source gives the progressives three the best of it. But both polls are guesses.

The reactionaries insist that they know just where they "are at." They have actually polled the national committee, they allege, and have confidence of a good working majority there.

Chance for Bryan.

If that is true and the Parker fight gets to the floor of the convention, it will bring Bryan to his feet and give him the very opportunity he has been looking for. His friends say that he may again "Bryanize" the convention, and that a speech from him, in which he will have a chance to "get mad," might go a long way in making him the compromise candidate.

It is admitted that the action of Tammany on the temporary chairmanship was intended as a direct slap at Bryan.

Tammany is sure of its ground, apparently. The progressives are also confident and say that they welcome the chance to find out definitely whether the convention is progressive or not.

There were no end of conferences during the day between the various national committeemen to discuss the situation and prepare the plans for a fight.

Thomas Haggart of Indiana, formerly national chairman, declared for harmony and hoped that everything could be settled satisfactorily.

Just what the attitude of the Southern delegates would be over the fact that Mr. Bryan did not send his note to Representative Oscar Underwood, a presidential candidate from Alabama, caused much speculation among the leaders.

Underwood's candidacy is favored by several Southern delegations, and their caucuses here are awaited with interest.

Roosevelt Plans Contemplate Second Convention Later On.

EXPECTS COUNTRYWIDE PROTEST

California Contest Decisions Cause Change in Plans of Colonel's Followers—May Try for Vote From all Parties.

Chicago, June 22.—If Col. Roosevelt eventually heads an independent ticket, it appears certain now that the convention which will name him will be held at a time considerably after the adjournment of the Republican national convention now in session in this city.

As a result of the decisive votes of the day's proceedings of the convention, particularly that on the fourth California district contest, and after a day's sober reflection on the part of his close advisers, the plan for a continuation of the present convention, as previously outlined, practically has been abandoned.

If, furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt is placed in nomination before the convention now in session, it will not be of his planning or with his sanction, but the individual action of some one of his enthusiastic supporters. These points in the otherwise somewhat indefinite Roosevelt program were made clear by Col. Roosevelt himself and confirmed by some of his closest advisers.

Not Roosevelt's Plan.

Some of Col. Roosevelt's more radical supporters still cling to the belief that it would be wise to carry out their original plan, which in effect was stoutly to maintain that the Republican convention is irregular and illegal, and after its adjournment to proceed with an organization in the same hall and name their ticket with Mr. Roosevelt at its head. Col. Roosevelt, however, refused to sanction this plan. He did not forbid it.

Should the nomination be offered to him under such circumsances, it is not his intention to decline, but he believes the wiser course would be to defer final action along such lines for a few weeks.

Hold Second Convention.

His idea, is that his supporters shall return to their homes and learn the sentiment in their own communities. A month or six weeks later, should conditions warrant, his leaders from the different parts of the country will assemble to determine whether there exists a sufficiently widespread sentiment to justify the creation of a new party. If the decision is in the affirmative, a national convention will be held.

It is his confident belief that a decided protest in every section of the country will be made when the facts in connection with the unseating of his delegates become known, and that this protest will foment until it develops into a formidable movement.

Such a movement, he believes, will not be entirely partisan but will come from the plain people of all parties.

ALL IS READY AT BALTIMORE

MISSOURI DELEGATES WILL BE SEATED IN FRONT ROW.

Wilson Managers Already Claiming 315 Delegates—Clark Men Say They are Sure of 470.

Baltimore, June 22.—Baltimore has assumed the aspect of a convention city. All the candidates' headquarters are well established and are hard at work and the crowds in the hotel lobbies discuss the Democratic situation with an interest almost as single as if the Republican fight in Chicago was not in progress.

The physical arrangements for the convention that meets Tuesday are practically complete and the subcommittee of the national committee has about finished the tentative plans to be considered by the main committee at its meeting Monday.

Convention tickets were allotted and positions assigned the various state delegations.

In the assignment of seats on the convention floor Ohio, New Jersey, Missouri and Alabama were given prominent positions, with the New Jersey and Missouri delegates in the front seats on opposite sides of the center aisle.

The claim of the Wilson managers is 315 instructed delegates. Wilson leaders conceded that Clark will get 330 on the first ballot and Underwood 86.

Few of the Clark leaders are yet in Baltimore, for most of them remained in Washington to attend the meeting of the Clark campaign executive committee. Those who are here declare that the latest estimate of the Clark delegates strength was 470, of which 406 were instructed and 64 uninstructed delegates.

General Bragg is Dead.

GOV. J. A. MEAD OF VERMONT

adopted the majority report and a roll call was avoided.

Groans From Californians.

At 3:57 the chairman rapped for order again and W. T. Dowell moved the adoption of the report on the fourth California district, seating the two Taft delegates, Tryon and Meyerfield.

The report set forth that the vote in the fourth district elected Tryon and Meyerfield, although in the statewide vote the Roosevelt delegates received a majority of 77,000.

The committee held that the state primary law which did not provide a vote by districts could not supersede the call issued by the national committee, which distinctly provided for representation by congresional districts.

When Massachusetts had been reached the Roosevelt people had gained 23 votes from the last call. It was realized the result was likely to be close and the delegates followed the balloting with intense interest.

Even New York Yielded.

New York gave 75 ayes and 15 noes, a change of one in favor of the Roosevelt forces.

Oregon, which had split about even on earlier contests, voted solidly for the Roosevelt forces, a gain of five votes.

Washington's vote of 14 for the Taft delegates called out groans and hisses.

The totals on the California contests were, for the Taft delegates, 542; for the Roosevelt delegates, 529; not voting, 7.

This is the closest vote yet taken in the convention and is only two above a majority, 540.

After the two Roosevelt delegates from California finally had been unseated the Roosevelt men from Missouri decided it was a waste of time to open up the Missouri contests before the credentials committee. The delegation will remain exactly as it stands now throughout the convention.

Hawaii's six votes were cast for the Roosevelt men.

Both minority and majority representatives from the credentials committee began ordering the reading clerks to skip much that was contained in their reports in the contested cases where the issue was not sharply drawn. In the fourth Louisiana, for instance, the minority representation said:

"Skip all you can except the names."

The 18 Taft delegates from Mississippi were seated after a short debate. No roll call was asked. The Taft delegates had been unanimously seated by the national committee.

At 7:38, with utter confusion reigning, adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock in the morning.

DAILY DEMOCRAT-FORUM

(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 3. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1912. No. 17.

NOT TO BOLT NOW

PROGRESSIVE PARTY TO BE FORMED LATED BY ROOSEVELT.

TAFT WINS EVERY ROUND

The Work is Slow and Monotonous, But Sure and Effective—Ready For Business.

Today will doubtless close the most memorable and, many strong men think, possibly the last national convention of that historical party. Taft will be named, not because even his friends want him, but because they control the convention and can't let loose. Governor Hadley is clearly the biggest man in this convention on either side, and his every appearance brings tumultuous applause. In order to lend respectability to their ticket and divert attention from the stolen nomination, the Taftites will make a herculean effort to force him into second place, but his friends here close to him claim that it will not be done, even if the governor has to break all history precedents by refusing to run, should he be named by the convention.

To use a favorite expression of the colonel, the Taft forces appear to have him "licked to a frazzle." Defeated before the national committee, his fight was made on the temporary chairman. Defeated here, the fight turned to the credentials committee. Here again the tide of battle turned against him. Next his lieutenants turned their attention to the final roll of the convention. With wonderful regularity and precision the contests, state by state, have failed, and after five days of fighting the convention is where it should have been on the morning of the second day—with a permanent roll of delegates.

The Roosevelt plan of procedure, as announced this morning, is to allow the Taft majority to go ahead with the convention while the Roosevelt followers sit mute. Mr. Roosevelt's name is not to be presented to the convention with his consent, but later a convention is to be called of progressives from both Republican and Democratic parties, and Teddy will appear as the Moses to lead the forces out of the wilderness. This plan may fail, but in it Teddy sees hope.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—Convention called to order at 10:45.

Credentials committee resumes report. Mississippi Taft delegates at large seated without roll call. All contested Taft delegates from Mississippi districts seated.

Convention seats Taft delegates from Washington, sustaining majority report of credentials committee.

After a wait of two hours the credentials committee reported the Virginia contests, and the majority report favoring Taft delegates was adopted.

At 2:30 o'clock the credentials committee was still wrangling over the report on Texas contests. Devine, Colorado, and McCormick, Illinois, nearly came to blows.

DR. FORD TO LEAVE

FIRST M. E. CHURCH MAY LOSE PRESENT PASTOR.

TO RAISE HALF A MILLION

The Great Task of Raising an Endowment Fund for School at Baldwin, Kan., to Be Undertaken.

From present appearances Maryville is on the vergs of losing one of the best ministers the city has had, and the First Methodist Episcopal church its much loved pastor, Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford.

He is being strongly urged by the directorate of Baker university at Baldwin, Kan., to assist in the campaign that will soon be inaugurated for an endowment fund of a half million dollars.

At the close of the church service Sunday morning Dr. Ford will meet his official board and lay the matter before them clearly, and will give his answer to Baker university within a few days.

His work with the Maryville church has been exceedingly pleasant, and he returns in full measure the feeling of confidence and love that is accorded to him by his brethren, both in and out of the church. If he goes it will be only in answer to an urgent call to what he conceives to be the larger opportunity to conserve the best interests of the church.

Baker university is launching a campaign for the raising of an endowment fund of one-half million dollars. This fund must be raised largely in the Kansas and South Kansas conferences.

The executive committee of the board of trustees called Dr. Ford over the long distance telephone Tuesday morning and told him that they had unanimously agreed upon him as the man to manage this campaign in the Kansas conference, and that they were very anxious to have him accept the place, and would be glad to have him come to Kansas City immediately to meet them.

This was a complete surprise to Dr. Ford, and he replied that it was out of the question for him to either give them an answer then, or to leave for Kansas City that morning.

Later in the day Dr. Mason, the president of Baker university, called him again and said that the members of the committee would remain in Kansas City and have another session after 9 o'clock if he would come down on the evening train. This he agreed to do.

He met them at the Baltimore hotel, where they talked over the whole situation, and he was urged to accept the place upon the plea that it was the call of the church to the biggest opportunity and the most gigantic task that had ever been undertaken for Baker university and the church in its patronizing territory, and that he, because of his special fitness and experience, and his extensive acquaintance, not only in the Kansas conference, but throughout the church, was the proper and logical man to lead in this great campaign.

Dr. Ford agreed to give the matter serious and prayerful consideration, and to give them a definite answer by the 26th of June. They want him to begin the work the first of July. The salary was fixed at $2,500 and all expenses. If he goes he will move his family to Baldwin, Kan., the seat of Baker university.

HOPKINS BROTHERHOOD.

Men's Organization of Presbyterian Church Now Numbers Sixty-Three.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church of Hopkins held their regular meeting at the church Friday night.

After the opening of the meeting two fine violin solos were given by Albert Aiken, with piano accompaniment by Professor Dee Jackson.

The business of the meeting consisted of the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the appointing of committees, one committee of importance being to secure a building for the purpose of a gymnasium, one room of this building to be set aside as a rest room for ladies.

The brotherhood membership now numbers sixty-three men, and is growing right along. In the words of Dr. Walton, who is pastor of the church, and at the head of the movement, "We mean business."

UP IN A BALLOON

THAT'S WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT TO SEE AT CELEBRATION.

2 ASCENSIONS IN A DAY

Fourth of July to Be Observed With Free Barbecue, Parades, Oratory, Music and Other Attractions.

The committee in charge of the attractions for the Fourth of July celebration have arranged for an array of talent and attractions that will show the crowd a grand time throughout the entire day.

The latest acquisition to the program is a balloon ascension. Mark Turner went to Omaha Friday for the express purpose of finding a man to do the flying act, and Mark found one, too. But he didn't get to the Nebraska town any too soon, for he got the last balloon from the J. Waldorf Hall Balloon company that was obtainable. The company has already contracted for six ascensions on the Fourth. The majority of us know but little concerning the ballon business, but Mr. Turner got it pretty straight that Mr. Hall has the soaring business down to a fine point, having had twelve years experience.

There will be two ascensions, one in the afternoon and the other at night. The night performance will be the feature one, as the balloon will be illuminated and fireworks will be set off from it while in mid-air.

The music for the day will be furnished by the Missouri Ladies' Military band and the Northwest Normal Male quartet. Although only a new organization, the Ladies' band is fast becoming a public favorite. The quartet never fails to please their hearers.

Of course, there will be a greased pole climbing contest and a "well greased pig"—no independence celebration would be complete without them.

At noon comes the eats, and um! yum! such eats, and free, too. There will be pork, potatoes, pickles and bread and all the trimmin's. Tanks of ice water, with enough of the dampness to water Alexander's army, will be located at convenient places in the court house yard.

Company F, Fourth regiment, Missouri National Guards, with Captain Ezra Phipps in command, will execute numerous military maneuvers, and the Woodmen of the World drill team will do some stunts.

Hon Earl Wiles of this city and Hon. B. Raleigh Martin of St. Joseph and several other orators of considerable repute will hand out the bouquets in the form of rousing addresses suitable for the occasion.

A base ball game between two good teams will be played in the afternoon. The Order of Owls and the W. O. W. are making elaborate preparations for the closing of the day's proceedings with a monster torch light parade through the principal streets of the city.

DR. CURTIS HERE FOR LECTURES.

Playground Specialist Will Talk at Normal This Afternoon—Illustrated Lecture Tonight.

Dr. Henry Curtis, secretary of the National Association of Playground Activities, arrived in this city Saturday from Warrensburg, where he lectured and gave demonstrations of his work.

Dr. Curtis gave a lecture and demonstration at the Normal at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Normal auditorium, Dr. Curtis will give an illustrated lecture on "The Playground Movement and Its Significance." There will be no charge for admission, and everybody is urged to attend.

From here Dr. Curtis will go to Kirksville, where he will lecture under the auspices of the state normal of that city.

Conception Church Dedication.

Dr. W. B. Christie went to Conception Saturday, where he will preside at the dedicatory services of the new M. E. church, on Sunday at 11 o'clock. There will be an all-day session and a basket dinner will be served at 12 o'clock, so that all may be present on time for the afternoon program.

News of Society and Womens' Clubs

Entertained for Guest.

Mrs. George P. Bellows entertained the members of the Cosy club at her home Saturday afternoon in compliment to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred C. Honnold of Chicago, who is her guest for a few weeks. The club members present were Mrs. C. C. Graves, Mrs. George B. Baker, Mrs. E. F. Wolfert, Mrs. C. D. Bellows, Mrs. S. G. Gillam, Mrs. J. F. Colby, Miss Allie Beal, Miss Bertha Beal. The other guests were Misses Carrie Margaret Baker, Mildred Bellows, Maud Bainum, Marie Brink, Hazel Ritchie.

Was a Brilliant Reception.

A company of Normal students and their friends, numbering almost five hundred people, attended the reception tendered the students by the faculty of the school on the lawn of President and Mrs. Taylor's home last evening. A more brilliant affair of its kind has never been given in Maryville. After being received by the members of the faculty, who were stationed at intervals along the east entrance walk, the guests gathered in groups beneath the trees, upon which were hung Japanese lanterns which cast an indistinct gleam on the assemblage. Punch, ice cream and wafers were served from beautifully arranged booths beneath the foliage of the trees. Miss Alma Nash's orchestra furnished most pleasing music throughout the evening.

Miss Mary Bellows Married.

Maryville friends received word Friday of a marriage that would take place in Seattle, Wash., at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, June 22, that will be of special interest to a large circle of the bride's friends and acquaintances in Maryville. It was that of Miss Mary Bellows to Mr. Johnson, an attorney of Seattle. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the First M. E. church of Seattle, by the pastor of the church, in the presence of the following relatives. Mrs. Frank Bellows and Miss Clara Bellows of Maryville, mother and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. James Shaack of Seattle, Mrs. Shaack being a sister of the bride, and Ex-Mayor Billing of Seattle, a brother of Mrs. Frank Bellows. The bride has been teaching in the public schools of Seattle for several years, and is a splendidly accomplished young woman.

Hudelson-Boyd Wedding.

A quiet wedding occurred Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. C. Halley, 130 South Fillmore street, when Miss Lauretta Hudelson was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Boyd a well known young newspaper man and publisher of Kensington, Kan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford of the First M. E. church, and was witnessed by the bride's sister, Miss Ethel Hudelson, and Mrs. Halley's family. The bride was prettily attired in white satin messaline, over which white chiffon was draped, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served in pink and white, the table decorations consisting of pink and white roses and sweet peas. The bride's going-away suit was of tan serge, with shoes and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd left Saturday evening for Lincoln, Neb., to spend their honeymoon, visiting at the homes of Mr. Boyd's brothers, James and Warren Boyd. They will be at home after July 1 at Kensington, Kan., where Mr. Boyd is editor and proprietor of the Kensington Mirror, and has a house all ready for his bride. Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hudelson of Armour, S. D., who until five years ago lived near Maryville. She has been employed by Mrs. W. J. Staples in her millinery, in St. Joseph and other places, since her parents left for Dakota, and has proven successful in her work. The best wishes of many friends go with her to her new home.

Mrs. Ringgold Hostess.

The Dew Drop Inn club was royally entertained by the Intellectual club at the home of Mrs. Rufus Ringgold, one-half mile north of Clyde school house, Thursday afternoon, June 20. The visiting ladies were welcomed by Mrs. Blackney in a reading beautifully rendered. There was instrumental music by Miss Lois Sargent of Hopkins; reading by Mrs. Earl Dowling and Mrs. Florea, and a poetical piece by Mrs. Anderson, reciting the woes of a club woman's husband. Mrs. Blackney gave a mandolin solo. "The Star of the East" was sung by Miss Jennie Ringgold and Mrs. Rufus Ringgold.

REPLACES M. J. ALDERMAN

Mr. Alderman's Connection With Blau-Gas Concern Demands Entire Time—Trade Made Friday.

Mr. M. J. Alderman, who was recently elected secretary and treasurer of the Nebraska Blaugas company, will soon give all of his time to the new company, in which the Aldermans are interested.

No other changes have been made in the Alderman company. Mr. C. J. Alderman will remain as president and Mr. C. W. Yehle as vice president.

Mr. Frank has been known for years as one of the progressive business men of Maryville, and while the people of Maryville will be sorry to see Mr. Alderman sever his connection with the big dry goods house which bears his father's name, we are sure the business will suffer no deterioration because of Mr. Frank's entrance into the firm.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

For Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce Martin H. Borrusch of Polk township is a candidate for the nomination of sheriff of Nodaway county, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the August primary.

THEY'RE ALL TIED FOR THE LEAD

Standing of the Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pr.ct
Giants	2	2	.500
Athletics	2	2	.500
Pirates	2	2	.500
Cubs	2	2	.500

They're all tied for the lead and they're all tied for the basement in the Normal base ball league as a result of the Bruins burying the Giants in Friday night's game by a count of 17 to 1. Shylock Wilson heaved the pill for the Cubs and a fine job of heaving he did, too. He let the enemy down with two small sized bingles, neither of which figured in the scoring of the Giants' lone tally. The Jew biffed the ball some also. In the initial round he leaned on one of Pitcher Moore's slants for a circuit of the sacks, counting Bright ahead of him.

Prof. Moore, who was on the mound for the vanquished was touched up for fourteen safeties, including two home runs and five doubles. The coach was working hard the first two rounds, but his teammates played a poor fielding game behind him, so after the enemy had gotten a safe lead he began tossing them over, giving the Cublets an excellent opportunity to fatten their batting averages.

Now that all four teams are tied up in their average there is little to choose between them, and the fact that they are so evenly matched will, of course, make the league all the more successful from the interest standpoint.

At the close of yesterday's game Mr. A. J. Luppold, representing "The Toggery Shop," announced that the firm would present a handsome championship pennant to the team winning the largest percentage of games.

On Visit to Daughter.

Mrs. N. A. Kavanaugh went to Bolckow Friday evening for a two months' visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. I. Dunn. Mrs. Kavanaugh, who has been an invalid for the past two years, was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Frank, and Mr. Frank. Mrs. Kavanaugh has recovered much of her strength in the past few months, and would be in fairly good health for one of her years if she had not been crippled by her fall of a year and a half ago, when she suffered the breaking of one of her hips, while she was with her daughter's family in Corpus Christi, Texas. She has to be taken about in an invalid's chair.

Firecrackers Out of Order.

You chaps that have laid in your supply of firecrackers for the Fourth and have been trying one or two just to see if they are good "poppers" had better recall that there is a city ordinance prohibiting the use of such explosives before or after the Fourth, unless, of course, the independence anniversary should happen to fall on the Sabbath day.

The ordinance against discharging blank cartridges, dynamite canes and other explosives of the kind and the firing of firecrackers more than three inches in length is still in force.

Revival Services at Guilford.

The revival services that have been in progress at the M. E. church, South, in Guilford for the past two weeks will close next Sunday night. Four people have joined the church during the special services and the minister and congregation feel that the meetings have been a success. The Rev. Mr. Oden of Kansas City is conducting the meetings.

Gave Commencement Address.

Professor Harry Miller of the State Normal school went to St. Joseph Saturday morning, where he delivered the commencement address to the eighty-four graduates of the rural schools of Buchanan county at the Central high school.

Left for Baltimore.

Harry M. Irwin left Friday evening for Baltimore, Md., to attend the national Democratic convention, which convenes next Tuesday, June 25. He went via St. Louis, where he will join the Missouri boosters for Champ Clark.

Miss Brownie Toel and Miss Allie Fraser left Saturday morning for Beattie, Kan., to visit their uncle, Dr. Emmett Ham and his family.

Misses Grace Spellman and Louise Marshall, State Normal students, went to their home in Mound City Saturday morning to visit over Sunday.

Guests From Springfield.

Miss Ruth Matter, who has been visiting in Springfield, Mo., the past five weeks, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wray, formerly of Maryville, as the guest of Miss Helen Wray, returned home Friday night. She was accompanied by Miss Wray and Miss Elizabeth Reed, also of Springfield, who will be her guest the coming week. Miss Wray is deputy clerk of the Springfield division of the state court of appeals, while Miss Reed is deputy circuit clerk of Greene county. Miss Matter made quite a favorable impresion with the young society folk of Springfield, and her stay was almost a constant round of social affairs on her account. Since her departure from Springfield was announced one or two admirers have been inquiring the distance and train connections to Maryville and looking at the calendar to figure how long it will be until their vacation time. Miss Matter and her guests were met at the train Friday night by a large crowd of friends who accompanied them to her home and spent the evening.

To Attend Wedding.

Mrs. E. E. Bever of Burlington Junction came to Maryville Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Lauretta Hudelson and Mr. Walter Boyd at the home of Mrs. Bever's daughter, Mrs. B. C. Halley.

Home Health Club

By DR. DAVID H. REEDER, LaPorte, Ind.

Imaginary diseases—Many a physician has borne testimony that when he was a student at the medical college that he had all the diseases that he read about in the medical books. He recognized the symptoms in himself, every time he felt a "little under the weather."

This sort of thing is not confined to medical students. Every physician has had persons to come to him with an imaginary affliction in which the victim was certain he had it, bad. The doctor generally cures that patient with what is termed a "placebo"—an inert, pretended medicine, given to satisfy a patient; to placate him, so to speak. Both words are from the same root. A placebo is generally a bread pill, or a little water, colored with some kind of innocent dye.

Of these imaginary diseases "heart disease" is the most common. The stomach is overloaded, or in some way inflated, mostly by gases, which conditions have the effect of crowding the diaphragm up into the heart's region, thereby interfering, somewhat with that organ's action. This, however, does not indicate any organic trouble with this delicate though powerful part of the human system.

Frequently the same effect as that mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, is caused by nervous sympathy with the stomach, brought about by acute indigestion, of great or less degree. In any degree it is distressing and may be avoided by care. For instance, one cup of coffee may, at times, be taken with comparative safety, when two cups would have a decided toxic effect. But coffee is, in any way that it can be taken, highly deleterious to a delicate stomach.

There is, within our knowledge, a veteran ex-soldier of the civil war who got the habit, necessarily, during the time of his service, or, unavoidably, to be more exact, of drinking coffee in large quantities, without cream or milk. The latter was unobtainable, and all soldiers drank very much coffee. It was furnished to the army as a staple ration, and the soldiers could drink it with impunity—and without cream—because of their youth and vigor, and strenuous outdoor life, inured to exposure and all phases of weather.

This veteran, who is, of course, a man in the neighborhood of 70 years, though generally strong and hearty, has been suffering from heart disease—he thinks—because he has kept up his army coffee habit. But he had not thought anything about that. He is not, however, living the same sort of strenuous life that he did as a soldier, and instead of having heart disease he simply has "coffee disease"—or did have, until the Home Health club told him a few things. He now says: "Since I let up on coffee the heart disease has let up on me."

Many persons read patent medicine circulars, and other printed stuff of that character, in which all the ills that escaped from Pandora's box are described, as to symptoms, and some folks, if they have any sort of "stitch" anywhere in the system, are at once led to the belief that one or more of the many afflictions so glaringly, and so ridiculously, portrayed there, are just what is ailing them. They get some of this cure-all truck, and then if they escape with some real affliction it is a miracle.

The fact is that fleeting "symptoms" are generally indicative of nothing beyond the fact that one of the strings in your harp of life may be accidentally touched, for an instant, at the wrong place, and there is a bit of discord. Tune up and go on. Forget it. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred you will be all right in the morning. When there is really something the matter that should be looked after by the doctor there will be no doubt about it. Or if you have a cold, or some other trouble of a light nature, that gives you an ache or pain, here or there, give yourself a rest and a homely treatment that you will always find in the Home Health club's books, and your apprehensions will generally take sudden flight.

Dear Doctor: I would like you to tell me what to do for our little boy, 22 months old, who has a navel rupture. It is about the size of a shelled hickory nut when he cries. He is a strong active baby, weighs 35 pounds, and on the move all the time, except when he is asleep. I kept a band on him, with a piece of rounded lead over the rupture, for a long time. Now I keep a rubber or elastic band on him all the time. It is difficult to keep anything in the right place. He has been this way ever since he was two weeks old. Is there any cure? Can it be cured by an operation? I can hear the water gurgle in it when it goes back and forth. I have been using an egg ointment every night, but nothing I have done does any good. I am troubled about it. MRS. E. L. S.

There is no question but what a skillful surgical operation would cure the rupture, but the danger lies in the anesthetic and the shock. No human being can tell with certainty what the after-effects will be. In ninety-five cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected by a properly fitted truss, and if it is properly fitted there will be no difficulty in keeping it in place.

Rubber bands are not advisable as they interfere with the circulation and are uncomfortable, while a properly fitted truss will not be noticed after a few days. A complete cure is frequently brought about by a good truss in a few weeks.

The New Homestead Law.

The liberality of our government in dealing with those who want to establish homes upon the public land is again shown by the new homestead act passed on June 6th and signed by the president. Under this law entrymen can make proof in three years by showing an actual residence of seven months each year; thus an entryman can hereafter secure patent to his land by twenty-one months residence during three years time instead of the sixty months continued residence heretofore required.

The new law permits those who have already lived upon their claims three years an opportunity to offer proof now and secure patent to their homesteads.

STILL SEATING TAFT DELEGATES

Convention Takes Up Contests Piecemeal From Many States.

Case Was Bitterly Fought But President Won by Narrow Margin—Texas and Washington Cases Still Remain.

Chicago, June 22.—The Taft forces in the Republican national convention further demonstrated their control of that body. The convention took up piecemeal the contests from many states, and in each instance the Taft delegates were declared entitled to their seats by majorities ranging from a high water Taft vote of 605 to 464 to a narrow margin of 542 to 529.

The latter vote was in the California case, in which the convention rules for selection of delegates by congressional districts came into conflict with the state primary law providing for a state wide vote on all delegates. Through this technicality the Taft forces claimed the two delegates from the fourth district. The case was bitterly fought and the voting was followed with the greatest interest, especially when it was seen that the Taft people were losing many of the delegates that had been with them in other contests.

When adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock in the morning, the Texas and Washington contests cases still remained to be dealt with, and there was likelihood of more bitterness between the opposing forces.

Good Humor at Last.

After the California case had been disposed of, however, the delegates seemed to be in much better humor. There was much fun and merriment during the late afternoon as the minor contests were pushed through without serious opposition from the Roosevelt people. There were many humorous allusions to the "steam roller" and frequent choruses of "choo, choo."

The convention is about to enter its fifth day and still is proceeding under temporary organization, a condition unprecedented in the history of the party. The leaders are going at their task in earnest and although many doubt their ability to do so, are going to try to get through with the nominations and everything else in time to adjourn early Sunday morning.

Hours of Bitter Debate.

The feeling of hatred rose to its height during Francis J. Heney's speech. The change to calm was wonderful when Gov. Johnson came forward and gave a clear-cut statement of the California situation. The evidence he presented was damning, but the bull baiting tactics of Heney were absent.

Gov. Hadley announced it had been intended that Gov. Johnson and Heney were to present argument for the minority but that Johnson was unavoidably detained and that Heney would open the argument.

Heney was furious, but retained his self control and began argument by declaring that the chief question involved was the right of a sovereign state to decide how its election should be conducted.

Out of Railroad Misrule.

Heney then sketched the California primary law and showed that it was passed especially to aid in securing a popular expression of the will of the people of the state on those questions.

Sereno Payne replied to Heney. The author of the tariff law said the two Taft delegates did not sit with the California delegation because the chairman of that delegation would not give them the seats to which they were entitled. His declaration that the Taft delegates had been seated by the supreme law of national Republicanism was greeted with a prolonged chorus of hisses, groans and boos.

In all the roll calls when California has been reached Gov. Johnson has insisted on reporting the state's entire 26 votes for the progressive side. The clerk merely announces it as 24 votes and calls the names of the two Taft delegates, who always vote the other way. It has been noticeable that their votes have come, not from the California delegation on the floor, but from the platform.

At 2:45 the report on the Arizona contests had been presented, seating the Taft delegates.

Sullivan of Ohio presented minority views. The same parliamentary tactics that marked the Alabama cases were followed. Sullivan moved the adoption of the minority report and Watson moved that it be tabled. A roll call was demanded. On it Idaho and Wisconsin switched back to the Roosevelt column, which they had deserted in the Alabama coses.

The minority report was tabled, 564 to 497. A roll call was not demanded when the motion to adopt the majority report was put and carried.

A viva voce vote was adopted on a motion by Watson to table Hadley's motion to substitute the minority for the majority report on the fifth Arkansas district. Another viva voce vote

WILL DUPLICATE CHICAGO SCENES

Democratic Convention, Also, Seems Sure to Open With Row.

TO BE FIGHT ON CHAIRMANSHIP

Clark's Refusal to Participate in Dispute Angers Wilson and Gaynor Men—Faint Hope for Peace.

Baltimore, June 22.—No denial that the leaders of the movement for Speaker Clark's nomination had joined with the Parker forces was forthcoming at a late hour and it was generally accepted as a fact. That alliance, it was reported, would result in New York's 90 votes being cast for Clark for the nomination.

As was expected, Clark has refused to take any part in the temporary chairmanship fight. This action, or rather non-action, of Clark has angered the Wilson and Gaynor progressives. They say that Clark has never been enough of a progressive to hurt and that his refusal openly to declare against Parker stamps him a reactionary.

Clark's Silence Annoying.

Wilson's friends grew quite personal over Clark's "pussy footing," as they expressed it, saying that Clark is of the politician type that would sacrifice any progressive principle to gain an advantage of his ambition for the nomination.

It now seems certain that the first act of the Democratic convention which convenes here next Tuesday noon, will be practically identical with the opening scenes of the Republican gathering at Chicago last Tuesday. The Republicans started off with a fight over the temporary chairmanship. The Democrats most probably will do the same.

The followers of Wilson and Gaynor are calling attention vigorusly to the news from Chicago that Roosevelt probably will head a new party. They say that the Democrats must—with "must" in italics—nominate an out and oat progressive and not a man like Champ Clark, Harmon or Underwood.

William J. Bryan's telegraphic note to five candidates for the presidential nomination—Speaker Clark, Gov. Wilson, Gov. Foss, Gov. Baldwin and Mayor Gaynor—asking them to join him in opposition to the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman, dissipated the faint hope of some of the leaders here that a fight at the opening of the convention might still be avoided. The national committeemen are eagerly awaiting to hear what the replies of the five candidates would be to the Bryan inquiry before making further moves.

Predict Bryan's Defeat.

National committeemen standing by Parker openly declared that Bryan would be defeated in the national committee, even though he accepted a proxy from some committeeman and appeared in opposition to Judge Parker. In attempting to poll the national committee as to how it will probably stand in voting for or against Parker, the progressives admit that they are at sea, because they do not know just how to place the Clark members of the committee. One estimate is made that the committee will be a tie, while another estimate from the same source gives the progressives three the best of it. But both polls are guesses.

The reactionaries insist that they know just where they "are at." They have actually polled the national committee, they allege, and have confidence of a good working majority there.

Chance for Bryan.

If that is true and the Parker fight gets to the floor of the convention, it will bring Bryan to his feet and give him the very opportunity he has been looking for. His friends say that he may again "Bryanize" the convention, and that a speech from him, in which he will have a chance to "get mad," might go a long way in making him the compromise candidate.

It is admitted that the action of Tammany on the temporary chairmanship was intended as a direct slap at Bryan.

Tammany is sure of its ground, apparently. The progressives are also confident and say that they welcome the chance to find out definitely whether the convention is progressive or not.

There were no end of conferences during the day between the various national committeemen to discuss the situation and prepare the plans for a fight.

Thomas Haggart of Indiana, formerly national chairman, declared for harmony and hoped that everything could be settled satisfactorily.

Just what the attitude of the Southern delegates would be over the fact that Mr. Bryan did not send his note to Representative Oscar Underwood, a presidential candidate from Alabama, caused much speculation among the leaders.

Underwood's candidacy is favored by several Southern delegations, and their caucuses here are awaited with interest.

Roosevelt Plans Contemplate Second Convention Later On.

EXPECTS COUNTRYWIDE PROTEST

California Contest Decisions Cause Change in Plans of Colonel's Followers—May Try for Vote From all Parties.

Chicago, June 22.—If Col. Roosevelt eventually heads an independent ticket, it appears certain now that the convention which will name him will be held at a time considerably after the adjournment of the Republican national convention now in session in this city.

As a result of the decisive votes of the day's proceedings of the convention, particularly that on the fourth California district contest, and after a day's sober reflection on the part of his close advisers, the plan for a continuation of the present convention, as previously outlined, practically has been abandoned.

If, furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt is placed in nomination before the convention now in session, it will not be of his planning or with his sanction, but the individual action of some one of his enthusiastic supporters. These points in the otherwise somewhat indefinite Roosevelt program were made clear by Col. Roosevelt himself and confirmed by some of his closest advisers.

Not Roosevelt's Plan.

Some of Col. Roosevelt's more radical supporters still cling to the belief that it would be wise to carry out their original plan, which in effect was stoutly to maintain that the Republican convention is irregular and illegal, and after its adjournment to proceed with an organization in the same hall and name their ticket with Mr. Roosevelt at its head. Col. Roosevelt, however, refused to sanction this plan. He did not forbid it.

Should the nomination be offered to him under such circumsances, it is not his intention to decline, but he believes the wiser course would be to defer final action along such lines for a few weeks.

Hold Second Convention.

His idea, is that his supporters shall return to their homes and learn the sentiment in their own communities. A month or six weeks later, should conditions warrant, his leaders from the different parts of the country will assemble to determine whether there exists a sufficiently widespread sentiment to justify the creation of a new party. If the decision is in the affirmative, a national convention will be held.

It is his confident belief that a decided protest in every section of the country will be made when the facts in connection with the unseating of his delegates become known, and that this protest will foment until it develops into a formidable movement.

Such a movement, he believes, will not be entirely partisan but will come from the plain people of all parties.

ALL IS READY AT BALTIMORE

MISSOURI DELEGATES WILL BE SEATED IN FRONT ROW.

Wilson Managers Already Claiming 315 Delegates—Clark Men Say They are Sure of 470.

Baltimore, June 22.—Baltimore has assumed the aspect of a convention city. All the candidates' headquarters are well established and are hard at work and the crowds in the hotel lobbies discuss the Democratic situation with an interest almost as single as if the Republican fight in Chicago was not in progress.

The physical arrangements for the convention that meets Tuesday are practically complete and the subcommittee of the national committee has about finished the tentative plans to be considered by the main committee at its meeting Monday.

Convention tickets were allotted and positions assigned the various state delegations.

In the assignment of seats on the convention floor Ohio, New Jersey, Missouri and Alabama were given prominent positions, with the New Jersey and Missouri delegates in the front seats on opposite sides of the center aisle.

The claim of the Wilson managers is 315 instructed delegates. Wilson leaders conceded that Clark will get 350 on the first ballot and Underwood 86.

Few of the Clark leaders are yet in Baltimore, for most of them remained in Washington to attend the meeting of the Clark campaign executive committee. Those who are here declare that the latest estimate of the Clark delegates strength was 470, of which 406 were instructed and 64 uninstructed delegates.

General Bragg is Dead.

Fond Du Lac, Wis., June 22.—Gen. Edward S. Bragg, famed leader of the Iron Brigade in the Civil war, statesman and diplomat, died here, aged 85, following a paralytic stroke.

GOV. J. A. MEAD OF VERMONT

adopted the majority report and a roll call was avoided.

Groans From Californians.

At 3:57 the chairman rapped for order again and W. T. Dowell moved the adoption of the report on the fourth California district, seating the two Taft delegates, Tryon and Meyerfield.

The report set forth that the vote in the fourth district elected Tryon and Meyerfield, although in the statewide vote the Roosevelt delegates received a majority of 77,000.

The committee held that the state primary law which did not provide a vote by districts could not supersede the call issued by the national committee, which distinctly provided for representation by congresional districts.

When Massachusetts had been reached the Roosevelt people had gained 23 votes from the last call. It was realized the result was likely to be close and the delegates followed the balloting with intense interest.

Even New York Yielded.

New York gave 75 ayes and 15 noes, a change of one in favor of the Roosevelt forces.

Oregon, which had split about even on earlier contests, voted solidly for the Roosevelt forces, a gain of five votes.

Washington's vote of 14 for the Taft delegates called out groans and hisses.

The totals on the California contests were, for the Taft delegates, 542; for the Roosevelt delegates, 529; not voting, 7.

This is the closest vote yet taken in the convention and is only two above a majority, 540.

After the two Roosevelt delegates from California finally had been unseated the Roosevelt men from Missouri decided it was a waste of time to open up the Missouri contests before the credentials committee. The delegation will remain exactly as it stands now throughout the convention.

Hawaii's six votes were cast for the Roosevelt men.

Both minority and majority representatives from the credentials committee began ordering the reading clerks to skip much that was contained in their reports in the contested cases where the issue was not sharply drawn. In the fourth Louisiana, for instance, the minority representation said:

"Skip all you can except the names."

The 18 Taft delegates from Mississippi were seated after a short debate. No roll call was asked. The Taft delegates had been unanimously seated by the national committee.

At 7:38, with utter confusion reigning, adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock in the morning.

CONTRABAND BEER DISAPPEARED

Forty Barrels, Captured in Tulsa Raids, Taken From Jail and Explanation is Demanded.

Tulsa, Ok., June 22.—Citizens of Tulsa are up in arms as the result of the theft of 40 barrels of beer recently confiscated from bootlegging joints. The contraband was stolen from the bullpen of the city jail at midnight and no account of it has been made by the police department. The people are clamoring for an explanation and a public investigation may follow.

It is rumored that the night sergeant "went to bed sick" that night and that the officer who relieved him fell asleep in his chair.

It is also said the lights in the jail alley and bullpen were turned out.

Oklahoma Bank Robbed.

McAlester, Ok., June 22.—The First State bank of Bokchito was robbed of $3,000 by five men. Eight charges of nitro-glycerin wrecked the building. The robbers escaped after a running fight in which 300 shots were exchanged with a posse. Two of the pursuers were shot.

Jack Johnson a Smuggler.

Chicago, June 22.—Jack Johnson, champion heavy weight pugilist, and his wife were indicted by the federal grand jury for alleged smuggling. Johnson, while abroad bought a diamond necklace for his wife and brought it home without paying duty.
